

Appeal to Resume Issuance of Foreign Student & Researcher Visas

The Right Honorable Fumio Kishida, Prime Minister of Japan

The Right Honorable Shinsuke Suematsu, Minister of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology

The Right Honorable Toshimitsu Motegi, Minister of Foreign Affairs

The Right Honorable Yoshihisa Furukawa, Minister of Justice

As a group of academics, professionals and students who care deeply about Japan, we join our colleagues from the Japan Association for Private Universities and Colleges in calling on the Government of Japan to resume the issuance of student and researcher visas. The entrance ban on new foreign students and researchers has harmed educational institutions, scholars and students in Japan and abroad in the following ways.

First, the ban has eroded the global relationships and reputations of Japan's educational institutions. Japanese universities have partnerships with institutions across the globe, many represented by the undersigned. While Japan has resumed sending students and researchers abroad, it does not currently receive students and researchers. The lack of reciprocity damages carefully cultivated partnerships. Furthermore, at a time when the Japanese government has been encouraging collaborative international research, the continuation of the ban will further impact the global ranking of Japanese universities.

Second, the dwindling number of foreign students reverses progress made in the internationalization of Japanese universities. The travel ban has affected students who planned to study in Japan. According to the Immigration Services Agency, the number of new foreign students entering Japan from January to June of 2021 decreased by 90% from the same period in 2019. Many students canceled plans, opting instead to study in countries open to international students. As a result, Japanese university campuses are less diverse with fewer opportunities for Japanese students to learn from their international peers.

Third, the travel ban has set back a generation of graduate students and young scholars. Delays in conducting research in Japan will have significant consequences on their academic futures. The entrance ban may result in an overall decrease in interest in Japan within the field of higher education.

Japan's vaccination campaign has made great progress. Over 68% of the population has been fully vaccinated. We strongly urge the Government of Japan to immediately resume the issuance of student and researcher visas. Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted.
